The Graduate Student Writing Group allows for students to set aside a specific time to work on their various writing projects such as term papers, theses, dissertations, grants, and publications. We also provide students with opportunities for goal setting and accountability. By setting aside two hours during the week to write, receive feedback, and participate in skill building activities with peers, the writing group can help relieve some of the stress of graduate school.

Register at:
ppfp.iupui.edu